Elements of Nature

Selections from the
Frederick R. Weisman Art Foundation

NOVEMBER 6, 2010

TO

FEBRUARY 27, 2011

CURATED BY Billie Milam Weisman

Reception: Saturday, November 6, 2010

from 6-8pm

Cindy Wright, Poisonous Wave, 2007

Exhibition Statement:

Nature has been a primary source of inspiration for artists throughout history. From the time of the earliest cave paintings artists have continued man's ceaseless dialogue with the elements, drawing inspiration from natural phenomena as well as wildlife. Elements of Nature: Selections from the Frederick R. Weisman Art Foundation takes this theme as timely and poignantly relevant considering how severely Louisiana has been impacted by recent environmental disasters. As seen in the works presented, the "elements of nature" are not limited to the ancient conception of earth, air, fire, and water. They also include volcanoes, hurricanes, typhoons, eclipses, and sunsets, as well as plant and animal life. Many other natural occurrences impact, and are impacted, by our lives on earth. Each artist in this exhibition helps us to view nature through their aesthetic eye.
